

Eco-Feminism, Educators and Climate Change (EFECC) Symposium

21 July 2016, The Cairns Institute, Cairns, QLD

Enjoy some winter sun at this FREE one day symposium exploring ideas and ways that researchers and educators inside and outside the university are communicating and educating about climate change.

Speakers are

Emeritus Professor, Annette Gough (RMIT)

Associate Professor, Hilary Whitehouse (JCU)

Reef Rainforest Research Centre, MD Sheriden Morris

Professor Bob Stevenson (JCU)

Knitting Nanna Climate Activists

Climate Angels

Plus a special post-graduate session

The event is free, but please register for catering purposes. Drinks, cake and fruit provided. Please bring your own lunch or there are places to grab a bite on site.

Registration is available online at <https://alumni.jcu.edu.au/EFECC2016>

@EFECC2016

#EFECC2016 #educatingforclimatechange

Contact information

Convener: Dr. Maxine Newlands, School of Social Science, James Cook University, Queensland, Australia

T +61 7 478 15006 (INT'L) +61 7 478 15006 @efecc or @Dr_MaxNewlands

With thanks to our supporters and funders

